THEIR FRIENDS.

In the correspondence of THE REPUBLICAN from Cape May, on the occasion of the Templars' pilgrimage to that place last week, the following incidents were accidentally omitted. It is not customary for a commandery to pay such tributes of respect as hereafter recited, and, consequently, greater was the honors to those receiving them.
After partaking of the hospitality of Colonel Smoot, and being phetographed, Columbia Commandery re-formed in line and marched through several of the principal streets, presenting an at-tractive appearance. While parading they marched up Lafayette street as far as Sir Allison Naifor's cottage, he being a member of Washing-ton No. 1, and has a host of friends among the visiting fraters. After passing the residence and husband extended a most cordial welcome. The hostess dispensed the hospitalities with her usual renerous and bounteous hand, and the Sir Knights were highly pleased with their recoption. A few minutes previous to the Knights' departure Sir Nailor arrived and confirmed the rdial welcome tendered by his wife.

ANNAPOLIS, August 26, 1874.

It is learned authoritatively that the constituional amendment passed by the last Legislature will not be submitted to the people of this State at the approaching Congressional election, as the constitution explicitly requires the electors to vote on amendments to that instrument at the general election. This will not occur until No-vember, 1878, when the Governor and comptreller veinings, isro, when the Governor and compared a will be voted for. The amendment proposed is made by chapter 364, acts of 1878, to article 4, sec-tion 8, of the constitution, in relation to the re-moval of causes by affidavit from one court, putting upon this much-abused provision some whole-some checks. The form of making amendments to the constitution is prescribed by article 14, one of the provisions of which is that the whole amendment proposed will have been published in two papers in every county of the State where there are two, once a week for three months be-fore the election. The people will not want light upon it except from negligence.

GLUTTONY.

A retired physician writes: "How does it happen that amid the everlasting cry against drunk-enness we never bear a word against its sister evil—gluttony? I think I can assert with truth that, in a long practice, three have died among my patients from over-eating where one has died from drink. Whence comes apoplexy, paralysis, dyspepsia and a host of other diseases, but from from drink. Whence comes apoplexy, paralysis, dyspepsis and a host of other diseases, but from dyspepsia and a host of other diseases, but from too much rich food, taken under the most imprudent circumstances? And yet we hear of no society formed to prevent this growing vice. A man eats until he drops down and expires with a popular by the roadside, when up comes the coroner with a jury of twelve good men and true, who pronounce a verdiot, 'Died from intemperance.' So he did, but what kind of intemperance was it? I have heard more than one minister in the pulpit expatiate with great vehemence against the sin of drunkenness, whose very appearance was proof positive that he was pre-eminently guilty of gluttony."

He is said to be in treaty with the royal family of Prussia for the hand of the daughter of Prince Frederick Carl, who is, consequently, grand viece to the Emperor of Germany. He has not yet outgrown his mania for odd and whimsical follies, though he has not equaled, of late years, his notion of having a lake constructed on the roof of the royal palace, where I believe it still exists, and whereon he meant, in tritition of I believe to still exists, imitation of Lobengrin, to sail in a boat

WHY HER PLAN DIDN'T WORK.

The Pottsville (Pennsylvania) Misser' Journal is responsible for the following story: A Phomizville maid, quite oid, becoming anxious about her matrimonial chances, recently concocted a plan to deceive a young fellow as to her ags. This was the way she tried it: The oid family Bible contained a faithful record of all births, marriages and deaths. This volume the maiden took to her chamber, and selecting the birth page, she man aged by dint of scratching and writing to change
the date of her birth to a period eleven years
later than what it had legitimately been recorded.
Then the Bible was placed on the litting-room
table in a conspicuous manner. That evening
